J. L. Easley, Macon, Ill., in speaking of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, says, "During the past fifteen years it has been my sister's favorite medicine for colds on the lungs. I myself have taken it a number of times when suffering with a cold and it always relieved me promptly."

Dependancy Due to Constipation.
Women often become nervous and despondent when this is due to constipation. It is easily corrected by taking an occasional dose of Chamberlain's Tablets. These tablets are easy to take and pleasant in effect.

A small house for rent. Price $4.50. Inquire at this office.

A large house, three lots, some fruit, well located. Price about $2,500. Worth more. Inquire News office.

A Bilious Attack.
When you have a bilious attack your liver fails to perform its functions. You become constipated. The food you eat ferments in your stomach instead of digesting. This inflames the stomach and causes nausea, vomiting and a terrible headache. Take Chamberlain's Tablets. They will tone up your liver, clean out your stomach and you will soon be as well as ever. They only cost a quarter.

THE UNIVERSITY HOSPITAL MEN.
Base Hospital Unit No. 41, Camp Sevier, Greenville, S. C. Mar. 28.
Dear Sir:
Even since we landed here have had a strong desire to write you a letter briefly describing army life at Camp Sevier. Our main excuse for putting it off for this long is because we were in quarantine for the first fourteen days and, as a result, were unable to see and learn much. Our quarantine life was miserable, but interesting experience. No sooner did we march in camp than we were shown four imaginary lines which we were not to cross. Tents were then issued and we had to pitch them, drainage around each one and grub every stump within its limits. This stump grubbing continued until all were extracted and the cavities beautiful leveled up. After we had succeeded in doing this all in one week we were marched outside where there once stood a beautiful forest, and more stumps did we dig. Occasionally firing of exercises in this manner, our officers would put us through hours of hard drilling in order to rest us up.

Aside from this work our daily schedule was reveille at 6:00 a. m., assembly 6:15, breakfast at 6:30; 7 to 7:30 tent policing and mail you this tent policing was not Cop. Jno. Thompson's job. We had to pick up everything in or around our tent from the tiniest match stick to the larger things. Whenever you see one of these Tazewell boys on the street don't be surprised if you see him sticking match sticks and cigarette stumps in his pocket. After tent policing we were put through our regular exercise until dinner call at 11:45 and assembly again at 1:00, recall at 4:45; supper at 5:30, tattoo at 9:00, and taps at 10:30. We were about to leave out the menu for each meal. Our breakfast was served to oatmeal, without cream or sugar, good thick gravy and cold light bread. To help out we were given strong black coffee, but rarely ever cream and sugar. For dinner we always had beans, potatoes, bread pudding and coffee. If no bread pudding rice was served instead. For supper we got exactly the same kind of food we were given at dinner. During these fourteen days we were given two shots in the arms to make us immune from typhoid. Of course, in keeping with what seems to be a well-established custom, as soon as our arms began to get good and sore we were given the usual exercise to cure them.

Thursday, the 21st, we broke quarantine and after a much longer for holiday, which gave us all a chance to visit town, we struck our tents about day break Friday, packed all our goods, except blankets, in our barracks bags, folded our coats, rolled our blankets in our one-half shelter (called dog tent by the soldier), placed this roll across our shoulders and marched two and one-half miles to the base hospital, our present location. Conditions here are very much better and everybody seems to be satisfied. We are being served as good meals as any family in Tazewell ever sit down to. We might say we got the kind of service one gets at a first class hotel, for example the one at Uncle Sam.

As long as Uncle Sam continues to feed us as he is now, there will be no Tazewell members with the deserters. Though this letter is a personal one from all five of us, still we do not feel it will be out of place to give you a few side remarks about some of us. Many, many things have happened to amuse us, especially have those St. Clair boys broke lose with that dry wit of theirs more than once. One morning while Horn St. Clair was going to lace his shoes, breeches and leggings and get it done quickly enough to answer roll call, he became slightly exasperated and remarked that he didn't see why Uncle Sam didn't issue corsets to his soldiers, so they could have the pleasure of lacing up something else. Fred St. Clair says he is feeling much better since he has been promoted from stump-pulling to road building. Henry Haley has remarked more than once that he could sleep on a clothes line, because all he would have to do would be to buckle his belt around the wire. When he prepares for bed, he removes his tie and shoes, and sleeps in the rest of his uniform. K. C. Patty can beat any Mellins Food record known to the medical world. He gained nineteen pounds in two weeks on beans and potatoes. Uncle Sam is gradually losing money on that boy. Willie Leece May will be of more service to Tazewell when he returns from the war than any of us. He has a two weeks course in scientific sanitation, and is rapidly becoming expert in that line. (Say you ought to see Jug cleaning out and disinfecting the (detected by the censor).)

Garland Peery and Thomas Worsham do not tent with us, but during working hours we sometimes happen to be digging in the same ditch or around the same stump. They are both feeling fine and seem to get as much pleasure out of serving Uncle Sam as the rest of us. Seriously, we all say that enjoy our daily experiences, are glad we are in the army. Not a single one of us will quit until the Germans are pushed back the other side of Berlin. Though we will not have opportunity to slay any of the Germans we will have the privilege of bringing back to healthful life the American soldiers. We hope that we will get to see France by May 15th anyway. Newspaper reports bring news which makes us believe two or three million more soldiers will be needed, soldiers for every branch of the army. There are lots of good fellows in Tazewell, who have, by reason of some technical excuse, so far escaped their responsibilities of this war. We hope they will soon wake up to the fact that they are sheltering themselves beneath the Stars and Stripes and that unless they soon begin to work for its protection they will be looked upon with ignominious shame by those who already represent the good Southwest in the service.

Your sincere friend,
—H. T. Haley, W. L. May, Fred W. St. Clair, A. G. St. Clair, Kenneth C. Patty, Privates in Medical Department U. S. A.

Americans! Answer With All That God Has Given You
(From Literary Digest.)
Americans! What does it mean to you—this anniversary of our entering the Great War?
What does it mean to you—the President's call to the nation to fight for its honor, for its rights, and for the rights and freedom of humanity? When he said, "there may be many months of fiery trial and sacrifice ahead of us"—when he said, "to such a task we dedicate our lives and our fortunes, everything we are and everything we have," how did his words come home to you? Now, after a year, at this serious crisis of the war, do they burn their way to the heart with a meaning more real, with a more imperative challenge?
Stern, terrible facts are driving us to action. The fiery and cruel cunning of the enemy are unbroken. Russia is under his heel bedeviled and plundered, Roumania has been crushed and forced to surrender. Fresh hordes of Huns are being hurled against the Western fronts. The greatest battle of the war is raging. The lust of conquest and world-dominion is now growing, as it feeds itself with first New plot, and then new agents of devilish propaganda are being sent into France, and Britain and Italy, and America to destroy them from within as Russia was destroyed. We MUST win, or our fate will be as Russia's. We MUST win, or our high professions of service to humanity will be a mockery to the name of America through the ages to come.
America is awakening; its heart is torn. It has treasured its soul to a world that did not know it before and now is dazzled by the sight. A deathless purpose to win this war is gripping the American people. The Third Liberty Loan will test this purpose—will give it expression—this month.

Already the young men of America have "dedicated their lives," and have gone to meet their "fiery trial and sacrifice" on the battle line in France. Hundreds of thousands of our own boys are now facing the cruel foe. In the trenches, filled with mud and blood; in the clouds of poison gas and the streams of liquid fire, into the iron hell, and the whirlwind of destruction, they have gone with shining eyes and shouts of defiance, to fight for us, and for a world of brothers. They'll drive the enemy back—WITH OUR HELP.

Now the sternest summons of duty, the holiest call of patriotism, comes to us for immediate answer. What are we at home going to do this year, this month, to match the heroism and sacrifice of our boys in France? How are we, safe and snug at home, going to "dedicate our fortunes"—everything that we have, to this supreme task, as we are called now to subscribe to the Third Liberty Loan? We are expecting to read of American heroism in battle, of the invincible strength and courage of our armies as they meet the foe. But heroism and strength and sacrifice in battle are not enough. They, alone, can never win the war. While we are looking eagerly to our armies, they are expecting us to do our part with a complete devotion and sacrifice as they are doing theirs. If we at home fail our armies on the battle-line, they will—THEY MUST—be swept away in defeat and disaster. This Third Liberty Loan means not the mere preparations of our armies, but their very lives, and the victory they MUST HAVE if America and the whole cause of freedom are to escape unspeakable ruin.

Day by day we shall scan with the throbbing heart the casualty lists cabled from the American front in the field. The length of that casualty list depends on us. Every one of us is responsible. This Third Liberty Loan is to keep that casualty list down. Every Liberty Bonds you buy this month is a life-saver sent by you to the boys in France.

This loan must not fail; it must not even drag. Quick, eager over-subscription is our only possible action. Buying a few Liberty Bonds with money which can easily be spared will not now be enough. We must go deeper and lend until it hurts. We must square the shoulders, brace the back, grit the teeth, and lift until it strains every nerve and muscle. Every man's money must burn as hotly with love of country as does the fire in a man's blood. The Nation's fate of today will go into the banks and the safety-deposit rooms and count their money and securities with eager, jealous thought of what they can do of heroic service and then will exclaim, "I only regret that I have but one fortune to give for my country." Then, "this nation, under God," will have a new birth of freedom. Then will our armies be invincible and victorious. Then will this war end with the triumph of justice and human liberty, and peace will come to stay forever.

Now, we must buy Liberty Bonds. Now, with our own boys fighting in the trenches, we must support them to the utmost with our cash and our credit. What good will our money be to us if we allow them to lose? What shall our bank account, or our income, or our borrowing ability profit us if the Huns set their heels on our shores and fasten their clutches in our throats, as they have boasted they will do?

The best time to protect our free land and our homes is now, while we can. The best time to support our armies and our allies, with ships and food and ammunition, and reinforcement, is now, when they will moan victory. Mirens of our mobilization, transportation and supplies for our own armies and help for our allies have been wrought by means of the First and Second Liberty Loans. But the greatest needs, the most imperative, must now be met by this Third Liberty Loan. More and more urgent, the appeals are coming to us from "over there."

A few days ago this message was flashed across the ocean from one of the high military authorities of France:
"It is not enough that your soldiers are fighting and shedding blood at our side; not enough that you are moving splendidly with your limitless resources in men and material. You must do better still. You must come with all your might and speed."
"Think of yourselves as under an immediate, terrible and personal menace, as if a barbaric, cruel invasion were coming to devastate your lands as it has already devastated ours. That is what it means and you will not be doing better until you feel it in this precise way."

Make no mistake; just such a terrible and cruel invasion, with all its barbarity and destruction, actually threatens us if we do not insure the victory of our armies in France. Plans are ready and waiting, and insolent threats have been made by the Kaiser and his Prussian henchmen. They need the wealth of America to pay their own huge war costs, and they will seize it if we do not prevent them. Billions for our armies and our allies, but not a dollar for the Hun! Refusal, neglect, insufficient effort, to subscribe now for the Third Liberty Loan will be an invitation to the Hun to ravish and loot American cities and homes.
President Wilson spoke straight to each one of us when he said, "The supreme test of the nation has come." Subscription, to the point of sacrifice, for the Third Liberty Loan is "a public duty, a dictate of patriotism, which no one can now expect ever to be excused or forgiven for ignoring."

HATE.
(From Collier's.)
A friend and contributor to Collier's who has a positive gift for discovering the average man's mind, and who has been exercising it freely on his way from Boston to Seattle by way of the South, writes:
"No hate in the country. Everywhere I go I am astonished by the absence of hatred. A great people going to war willingly without murmur and aloof without hatred. I am wondering if the absence of hatred may not be due to something more positive than mere lack of realization. I am wondering if it may not, perhaps, be due to an instinctive but all-underlying sense of the absolute justice of our position? I dunno. It makes one think, I wonder some times if there is any such thing as righteous hatred?"
"German's stock in trade—that I wonder if a righteous nation may fight desperately—and hatelessly. I don't know. At least, it's an interesting speculation."
It is an interesting speculation. And perhaps the answer is something like this: Men who do things disagreeable to their anger in action. Frightened men or weak men can not act. It is they who hate. In a word, hate is the weapon of helplessness.

AN AMERICAN PEACE.
There can be no peace with honor or safety to ourselves or to posterity except a just peace, and there can be no just peace, unless the work for peace accomplished nothing but the hampering of our effort, the delay of the real peace, and a greater toll of death of America's fighting men. Our duty is to war for a just and righteous peace; to work or speak for any other peace is aid and comfort to Germany—injury and disloyalty to our boys in France.

YOUR FIFTY DOLLAR LIBERTY BOND.
It will protect 1,000 soldiers from smallpox and 666 from typhoid. It will assure the safety of 139 wounded soldiers from lockjaw, the germs of which swam in Belgium soil. It will render painless 400 operations, supply 2 million of bandages—enough to bandage 650 wounds. It will cure for 160 injuries in the way of "first-aid packets." It will furnish adhesive plaster and surgical gauze enough to benefit thousands of wounded soldiers. Every purchaser of a Liberty Bond performs a distinct individual service to his country and to our boys fighting in France.

1776-1918.

The descendants of the patriots of Washington and Paul Jones are fighting once again side by side with the descendants of the patriots of Lafayette and Rochambeau. The time and opportunity have come for a nation to pay a great debt of gratitude for service rendered in great national need and America is paying France the debt she long has owed.

The Revolutionary War for the freedom of America the French fought on American soil under the command of an American. Today in the war for the freedom of France and for the preservation of liberty to America, and indeed to all the world, Americans fight on French soil under the supreme command of a Frenchman. The honors are even and the honors are great.

No true American who knows the history of this country and loves the honor of his country but thrills at the thought of the American army in France. The invincible Americans will turn the tide of war; they will bring to France and her allies a victory for liberty such as France assisted us to win, and repay with interest a debt to liberty and to France long owing and honorably acknowledged.

WOMEN TORTURED.
Suffer Terribly With Corns Because of High Heels, But Why Care Now?
Women wear high heels which buckle up their toes and they suffer terribly from corns. Women then proceed to trim these pests, seeking relief, but they hardly realize the terrible danger from infection, says a Cincinnati authority.
Corns can be easily lifted out with the fingers if you will get from any drug store a quarter of an ounce of a drug called freezone. This is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. You simply anoint a few drops directly upon the tender, aching corn or callus. The soreness is relieved at once and soon the entire corn or callus, root and all, lifts out without one particle of pain.
This freezone is a sticky substance which dries in a minute. It just shrivels up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. Tell your wife about this.

KAISER'S MONEY BUYS LIBERTY BOND.
Cambridge, Mass., April 7.—The Kaiser, who has his bid to make the Third Liberty Loan a driving success, The German Emperor, unwavering of the fact, has contributed the sinews to purchase a $1,000 Liberty bond so that Prussianism and all it upholds may be banished from the earth. Emperor William, in 1906, saw a good opportunity to advertise German Kultur when in lambkin, and forwarded to Harvard University $25,000, which bears an annual interest of $1,200. The income up to this year has been used to defray the expenses of the German museum, but thinking the Kaiser's money can be spent to better effect now the country is at war, a $1,000 Liberty bond is to be bought during the present campaign.
